with Giorgia Milne
August 14-15, 2023

The forces of growth and development are the same as the forces of healing, adaptability, learning, and change.
—Bonnie Gintis, Osteopath & Continuum Movement Teacher

Motion precedes form and function
— Jaap van der Wal, MD

You are your most you at the moment of conception, everything after that is differentiation — Eric Blechschmidt

The embryo has much to reveal to us about life . . . and death . . . as a life process. Through the exploration and study of the metabolic forces and conditions of coming into being, we open to a vast world of self-discovery and healing potential.

The 3-day workshop covers the basic principles of development of a human embryo from conception to week four. The unfolding of human form in space and time is amazing and can be understood without knowledge of genetics. We will focus on the transmutative changes happening in the early stage of our development and how they relate to our inherent healing forces; revealing the science behind the phrase, "Wholeness as Health".

We will explore the conditioned and unconditioned forces that shape our coming into being, and into form and function. All of the major structures that make a human being are present by the eighth week of gestation. Topics include, yet are not limited to:

Conception
Pre & Post Implantation Growth
Early Arising & Development of the 3 Midlines, CNS & Heart

Through experiential exercises with and without touch, movement explorations, PowerPoint presentations, and discussions, we will open to these mysteries that are present and alive within us; creating us in every moment; maintaining health, balance, and evolving us as an embodied living consciousness. Emphasis is on embodied present-awareness and healing potential of these creative forces.

Prior knowledge of Anatomy and Embryology is not required. This workshop is open to anyone interested in the subject as the implications are far reaching for any bodywork practice modality, as well as everyday life. Particularly applicable to students interested in the Biodynamic Approach to Craniosacral Work.
